Rockefeller, Others Praise Governor Ogilvie as Skilled Administrator, Courageous Official

DEDICATION OF SOCCER FIELDS. Kent Dunn, physical director of the Tri-City YMCA, voices appreciation Sunday to the many firms and persons who helped make the two new Steele soccer fields a reality. Seated on stage for the ceremonies are, from the left, Ruben Mendoza, YMCA soccer director; the Rev. Lawrence Mattingly, pastor of St. Elizabeth Church, who gave the invocation; Everett Demott, president of the "Y" Soccer Association; and Jerry Donley, association president for the 1972-73 season. Over 300 young soccer players were in attendance. The fields, located at the east end of Buenger Boulevard, were donated by Everett G. Steele, a local realtor.

Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie was praised for "high achievement" in a talk at Belleville last night by New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller. Both state chief executives were present at a regional tribute to Gov. Ogilvie, held at the St. Clair County fairgrounds. "Dick Ogilvie's cool courage, his skills as an administrator, his firmness on finances, his fiscal caution and his humane, progressive approach to solving the problems of the people of Illinois are part of his significant record of achievement," Rockefeller told the enthusiastic gathering of 7,000.

Box suppers were served at the rally, which also featured musical entertainment by two bands and a drum and bugle corps.

Rockefeller said Gov. Ogilvie's accomplishments include doubling the number of state college scholarships; obtaining passage of a no-fault insurance bill; providing 45,000 acres of new parklands; securing passage of a tough drug abuse program; doubling state financing for education; obtaining approval of a $50 million bond issue for flight pollution; and increasing minority employment in state government.

"When Dick Ogilvie went to Springfield, he faced a crushing $1 billion deficit," Gov. Rockefeller said. "He saw glaring, urgent needs. He knew there was only one way to meet those needs responsibly. He faced up to the inescapable need for a state income tax, and got it passed by the legislature."

"Believe me, in politics, that is an act of raw courage. That is when you know you have a leader who places his state's needs above his own," Rockefeller concluded.

Gov. Ogilvie was welcomed to the platform with thunderous cheering and was applauded frequently as he voiced confidence that Illinois voters will take a careful look at instances of progress during his administration.

The governor accused his Nov. 7 opponent, Dan Walker, of using "the after lie" in campaign talks.

He said Walker's approach is similar to those of Presidential nominee Sen. George McGovern — "that is, to create dissension and try to divide the people."

"The issue is my good record against his poor record," Ogilvie said. "Noting that a poll shows Walker losing his lead and beginning to slip, he commented, 'Let me tell you, he stepped on a banana peel.'"

Master-of-ceremonies was St. Clair County Sheriff Dan O'Neill. He praised Gov. Ogilvie for actions to increase the effectiveness of law enforcement.

Also supporting the governor were East St. Louis Mayor James E. Williams and Beltho Mayor Ernie Plegge.

Saving revenue sharing by the state with local-level government has proved invaluable, Mayor Plegge told the audience. "You know why it took a man of courage to fight for it."

In other political developments, H. Roe Barile, former Kansas City mayor who has spoken in the Quad-Cities, has been given a prominent role in the Democratic for Nixon organization.

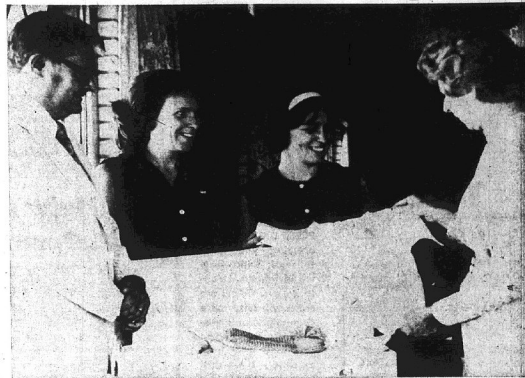

Lieutenant Governor Paul Simon, Illinois campaign manager for Sen. McGovern for President, said Friday, "I have to deal with the fact that a great many people view George McGovern as a radical."

At a press conference, Simon said he will urge voter registration and will tell the public "McGovern is a responsible, dedicated human being who can provide the kind of leadership the nation needs."

He said McGovern trails President Nixon "but the gap is narrowing." Assessing the gubernatorial race, in which he lost out in the Democratic primary, Simon said, "Ogilvie (incumbent Republican) is gaining but Walker (Democratic nominee) is ahead and likely to stay ahead."

The State Electoral Board on Friday ruled off the ballot all candidates of the Communist, Socialist Worker and American parties. Lawyers for the first two groups said they hope for a ruling from a three-judge

Fiscal 'Belt Tightening' By County Government

Finance Committee budget meetings with Madison County governmental department heads are beginning today, with "belt tightening" the dominant theme.

While the outlook is not regarded as a "crisis," County Board Chairman Nelson Hagnauer has called for a tighter rein on spending, including expenditures authorized by the board. "If we start with ourselves, the others will follow," he commented.

The budget meetings, related to the 1972-73 fiscal year, beginning Dec. 1, include the offices of the sheriff, circuit clerk, state's attorney and county clerk, and judiciary, mental health and highway programs.

The County Board's September session will begin at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at the courthouse in Edwardsville. The agenda includes a resolution fixing salaries of the county officials to be elected Nov. 7, and a bill terminating a tax collection agreement with St. Clair Securities.

Projections by County Auditor John Kravynak indicate that, with present trends, county general fund spending might exceed new revenue by $1 million, more than eliminating a $700,000 reserve.

Unexpended major costs are cited, including $33,000 courthouse roof. The county also has paid off the remainder of its bill for voting machines, $32,420. And inflation has been a factor.

Uncertainties include possible loss of tax collection service charges and potential loss of personal property taxes placed in escrow pending an Illinois Supreme Court ruling. The 1970 state constitution eliminated county fees from inheritance taxes.

Hagnauer is hopeful that the General Assembly may provide counties with revenue to meet collection costs. In the meantime, he feels that cutbacks in staffs and services may be necessary.

At a meeting between department heads and County

Board representatives last week, Hagnauer said closer budget scrutiny will be unavoidable.

The early payment for the voting machines is credited with saving $177,000. Spending which has been proposed with the idea of later economies includes $28,000 to set up a central purchasing office and an unspecified amount to establish a centralized printing and duplicating office.

News Notes Steel Outlook is Good Through 1973--Stinson

Steel demand should continue at the current high level of eight million tons a month through most of 1973, George A. Stinson, National Steel Corp. President and chairman, said during the weekend. "I see no signs of any negative factors which would signal a mid-year downturn," he said.

National on Friday said it will install the steel industry's first continuous cold rolling mill at its Weirton, W. Va., plant. National bought Granite City Steel Co. last year.

The B-I State Development Agency on Friday continued its contract with Transit Services Corp. as manager of its bus system but delayed a five-year renewal clause. Terms of a new contract to take effect next April 1 will specify that it could be canceled with a 180-day notice, if Transit Services approves the proposed wording.

Edward J. Delmore Jr., Bi-State chairman, said the modification would give the agency flexibility when a public transit task force study is completed Dec. 1. St. Louis County Supervisor Lawrence Roos on Thursday urged merger of all regional agencies, including Bi-State.

Lt. Gen. George B. Simler, 51, who had been named to command the Military Air Lift Command at Scott Air Force Base beginning tomorrow, with promotion to four-star general.

Kidnapping Charged After State Raid

Robert Chapman, 29, of Venetia Lane and Lola Avenue in Granite City near Mitchell, was arrested in a raid by St. Louis Bureau of Investigation agents in his home at 9:30 p.m. Friday. He was charged with kidnapping.

A neighbor saw several armed men enter the home and called Madison County Sheriff's Department. Four sheriff's cars were dispatched. A spokesman for the sheriff's department said the department had not been notified of the raid.

"We had a very serious situation there and one of the FBI men could easily have been shot," the spokesman said. Chapman, a woman and two men were taken from the home in handcuffs and taken to the Madison County Jail. Chapman was the only person charged immediately, but other charges were filed in connection with the incident, a spokesman for the FBI said today. Chapman was released on $100 bond.

Burned Boy, 9, Needs Blood Replaced, Cards

The child is a lonely boy in St. Elizabeth Hospital who has not received a card from playmates nor any visitors to cheer him up since he was admitted at the hospital on June 3 after suffering severe burns to both legs.

The child is Anthony McCrea, 9 years old. As yet, he cannot walk and, since the accident in which he suffered scalding burns with flaming gasoline, the youngster has undergone six skin graft operations.

Anthony is the son of Mrs. Ruby McCrea, 2801 Kirkpatrick Homes. He was to have entered the fourth grade at Marshall School this fall.

The Press-Record was advised of the child's lonely confinement by an employee at the hospital, who suggested that schoolmates of the boy or other well-wishers may want to write him a cheery letter or card.

Mrs. McCrea learned Thursday that a total of 13 pints of blood must be replaced. She informed the Press-Record. The blood was used for Anthony's surgery.

Donors wishing to contribute blood in his name may do so by calling the hospital at 376-2020, or by reporting to the pathology department at St. Elizabeth Hospital and advising the supervisor to whom their donation should be credited.

Simon Gambles for Stake In Future State Politics

By KEN WATSON
Copy News Service

Springfield — Lt. Gov. Paul Simon has taken himself off the political hook and launched a new gamble for future power in state politics by accepting chairmanship of the Illinois McGovern-Silver Campaign Committee.

Despite the usual public statements praising Democratic presidential candidate George S. McGovern as a misunderstood statesman, this is the Statehouse view of Simon's latest move in the political arena.

In this admittedly cynical Capitol interpretation, it is personal ambition rather than self-sacrifice that has prompted the lieutenant governor into taking on what would appear to be a hopeless task.

The Capitol consensus is that Simon actually has nothing to lose and probably a lot to gain.

Most Illinois polls show him trailing President Nixon in this state by about 20 percentage points.

At this stage, McGovern virtually has no place to go but up, and any gains scored by him now and election day could be credited in large measure to Simon's efforts.

With Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and his organization taking a clearly indifferent attitude toward the McGovern candidacy, Simon would be in the spotlight should the Presidential race in Illinois turn out closer than is now anticipated.

An upset victory by McGovern could even boost Simon over Daley and U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III as titular leader of the Democratic party in Illinois, some believe.

Simon's personal participation in the underdog McGovern effort may also return him to the good graces of Democratic liberals and intellectuals who resented his close association with Daley's organization in the primary slatemaking and subsequent unsuccessful primary election.

Heavy involvement in the McGovern campaign also spurs Simon to the prospect of having to perform anything more than lip service for Walker in his tightening race with Republican Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

Despite some occasional, if subdued, public praise of Walker, Simon is known to remain bitter at what he considers unfair tactics used by Walker in the primary battle. He is also believed to harbor serious doubts about Walker's capability to govern the state if elected.

By concentrating on the national ticket, Simon escapes any future accountability as to what might happen in a state Democratic administration headed by Walker.

Students in Professor Paul Simon's political science class at Springfield's Sangamon State University can learn as much or more about the subject by watching him as he does as by listening to what he says.

RECYCLING PROBLEM results when added materials are included in the tin can recycling receptacle of Granite City Steel Co. located on the North Plank parking lot between 21st, 20th, Omaha and Monroe streets. Intent of the program is to provide a place where clean tin cans can be dumped; they are baled and used to create new inplate products. As can be seen from the pile, many unwanted items sometimes are discarded, including garbage and a vehicle license plate.

Rise in Public Aid Case Load Apparently Halted

Caseload figures termed "the most encouraging in recent years" were released last week by the Illinois Department of Public Aid.

In reporting the figures for the second quarter of 1972 (April through June), Director Edward Weaver noted that the monthly increase in June was the smallest since November 1968.

He said 983,600 persons received some type of public assistance in Illinois in June—an increase of 15,600 over the number of persons receiving assistance in March.

"That figure compares to increases of 31,113 persons for the same period in 1970 and 54,596 persons for the second quarter of 1971," Weaver said. "The advance also was approximately half that experienced from Jan. 1 through March 31 of last year when 34,100 new cases were reported."

Expenditures in June for all programs, including medical care totaled $39,536,400, or approximately $5.3 million below expenditures in March.

Job Help Available To Vietnam Veterans

Thousands of returning Vietnam-era veterans in Southern Illinois could be getting special help in finding a job, upgrading their occupational skills, or furthering their education while being paid to do so. But most of them are not aware of the benefits to which they are entitled.

That information comes from the Veterans Affairs Section of the Governor's Office on Human Resources (GOHR), Springfield, and an all-out effort is under way to remedy the situation.

Because the typical Vietnam veteran is undereducated and underemployed—or unemployed—an Emergency Employment Act was passed by Congress in late 1971. It is with funds from this Act, coming through GOHR, that a special program has been established at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and Carbondale.

Madison Man, 41, Sentenced to Prison

Edward Joseph Kern, 41, of 1547 Collinsville Ave., Madison, has been sentenced to three concurrent prison terms of 1 to 3 years in circuit court in Madison.

Kern withdrew his innocent plea and pleaded guilty to two counts of burglary. He also pleaded guilty to a count of attempted burglary.

County Zoning Board Approves Four Petitions

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended the approval of four Quad-City petitions—two for variance in erecting signs and two for special use permits—following on-site hearings last month. Approval of the petitions will be recommended to the County Board in its meeting tomorrow.

Cases in which petitions were granted include:

- The petition of Carl Mercer and sons, Inc., by Wilbur W. Mercer, president, and H. G. Huber, requesting a variance to erect a sign of greater height than permitted in a B-2 Business District in Chouteau Township.
- A petition of the American Oil Co. by P. E. Lopshire, Area engineer, and Maguire Sign Co. by W. W. Maguire requesting a variance in sign height to erect a sign 70 feet high and a variance in gross surface area to permit a sign of 160 feet in a B-3 Highway Business District in Chouteau Township.
- A petition of Joshua A. and Edna Dimmitt, and Willis W. Stoval requesting a special-use permit to place a mobile home in an agricultural district in Nameoki Township for duration of occupancy by Willis Stoval and his wife.
- The petition of Earl C. and Fern McClure requesting a special use permit to place a mobile home in an R-4 Single Family Residence District in Nameoki Township for the duration of occupancy by Earl McClure and his wife.

To Learn German, Go to Germany; Student Finds Countryside Not Much Different Than Illinois

By GARY KEBBEL
(Second of three articles)

During July and August I was learning German in Grafing, Germany (a suburb of Munich). I was a student at the Giethe Institute, a university specially designed for foreigners learning German.

The study program, arranged by the Foreign Language Department of Illinois State University, included transportation, university credits and lodging with a German family.

Arriving in Germany for the first time, I noticed the countryside looked much like parts of Illinois, Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Germany's largest cities — West Berlin, Hamburg, Munich and Frankfurt — compare to St. Louis or Peoria since their reconstruction after World War II under the Marshall Plan.

Living with a German family is the only way to see the real difference between the German and the American ways of life. The Americanization of Germany through its reconstruction after the war has failed to completely Americanize many German attitudes and customs.

When I arrived at the home of Herr and Frau Kerschbaum in Grafing, I noticed an immaculate yard surrounded by a hedge (as are most German yards) and hundreds of roses and geraniums lining the sidewalk and porch.

Surprisingly, the inside of the house wasn't cared for like the outside.

The house was neat and orderly, but the floors hadn't been swept for quite some time. Hair from the Kerschbaums' St. Bernard and Dachshund was everywhere. The gardens had fewer weeds than the floor had hair.

The Kerschbaums were immediately nice, but reserved. Their two daughters, Christa, 11, and Eva, 8, were open and friendly, as Herr and Frau Kerschbaum would also be, once the ice between us was broken.

The Kerschbaums were like most Bavarians; they didn't initiate conversation. However, once they were spoken to, they were relaxed and friendly and very talkative.

Once Frau Kerschbaum asked me how most Americans regarded President Nixon. When I told her he has a good chance to be re-elected, she was amazed. "Why do Americans like him?" she asked.

To Frau Kerschbaum, the President is the man who came close to starting World War III when he ordered the American blockade of North Vietnamese ports.

As most Germans today, she has a great concern for world peace and doesn't think that the President's summit conferences with China and Russia helped to calm the world situation.

The American educational system is observed as closely by Germans as American politics are, but the Kerschbaums place a greater emphasis on education than most American families do.

At 8, Eva plays the accordion and the piano, swims and skis. Her parents make her practice reading, writing and arithmetic several times a day.

She knows the multiplication tables, forwards and backwards through "the 7's."

Whenever her mother asked her to say the tables, she had to recite them perfectly. Each time she made a mistake, she was slapped on the back of the head or had her ears pulled. She is now going through the same learning process that her older sister did.

Physical health is as important to Germans as mental health. Bicycles are ridden more by all ages and both sexes in Germany than here.

Women, wearing dresses and high heels, will ride to town or to work until they are in their 70's. When they can no longer ride a bicycle, they walk to town.

Walking a mile to town is no real problem for a German woman in her 70's because most of her life she has been walking.

Also, the average Bavarian family will go mountain climbing as much as possible. Older couples will climb with the heartiest teenagers and not appear unduly tired.

Their love of nature and fresh air explains why Germans don't have home air conditioning. They like to keep the windows of their homes open whenever the temperature isn't near freezing.

Cool evenings would have been miserable for sleeping if it weren't for the German "feather covers."

These are two lined sheets the width of the bed that are sewn together and stuffed with down.

They're usually a foot or two thick and they keep you warm on the coldest nights.

These "feather covers" are necessary in German homes, because the homes aren't heated in the winter as well as ours are.

German ideas about cleanliness are strikingly different from what an American considers clean. Frau Kerschbaum thought that it was only necessary to change the bed sheets once a month.

This doesn't sound terribly bad until you find out that you're not allowed to bathe once a week.

Another European custom particularly surprising to the American male is that women don't shave their underarms or their legs. If an American is attracted to a young Fraulein, it's because he's still looking at her from a distance.

I was surprised to find out that German families rarely show emotion among themselves.

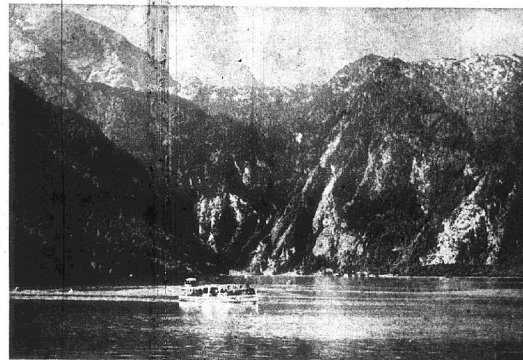

When Frau Kerschbaum left for a vacation in Italy, she only shook her children's and husband's hands. Five days later, when she returned, they didn't even shake hands.

When I left the Kerschbaums, my good-bye was as warm (or as cold) as the one given to her daughters.

At least, Frau Kerschbaum told me that she'd like to see me again — that's more than she said to her daughters when she left for Italy.

Ogilvie-Walker Debate at State Chamber Meeting

Illinois' two gubernatorial candidates have agreed to meet in their first Chicago debate before the 1972 campaign on Friday, Oct. 6, at a highlight of the 54th annual meeting of the Illinois State Chamber of Commerce. The clash between Governor Richard B. Ogilvie and Daniel Walker is scheduled at a noon luncheon session in the Chicago's Palmer House.

Representatives of the candidates are hammering out the format for the hour-long discussion, which will be restricted to the topics of taxes and public finance, Lester W. Braun, Jr., State Chamber president, has reported. "We have" honored that the candidates accepted an invitation to debate the crucial issues from our platform just one month before election day," he added.

Business and governmental leaders will address the two-day meeting, which opens Thursday, Oct. 5 with program and policymaking review and planning sessions. William S. Lowe, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, will address a 6:30 p.m. dinner that day.

In addition to the debate, the opening day's events include a morning forum on "The Image of Business," as businessmen answer their critics.

Keynote speaker will be Ralph Nader's most outspoken critic, Dr. Henry G. Manne, professor of law at the University of Rochester. A panel of Illinois business leaders rounds out the program: Charles L. Brown, president, Illinois Bell Telephone Co., Chicago; Robert W. Galvin, chairman of the board, Motorola, Inc.; Franklin Park; and Arthur M. Wood, president, Sears, Roebuck and Co., Chicago.

A Friday afternoon business outlook session examines "The Economy: '73 and Beyond," featuring as keynote Dr. Pierre A. Rinfret, president, Rinfret-Boston Associates, New York City. Dr. Rinfret has been appointed by President Nixon as the principal economic advisor for the Administration during the campaign.

Panelists are Virgil B. Day, vice-president, General Electric Co., New York City, a former Pay Board member; Dr. Milton Friedman, professor of economics, University of Chicago, former economic advisor to the President; Richard S. Peterson, vice-president, and economist, Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust Co. of Chicago; and David M. Wells, director of corporate planning, Deere & Co., Moline.

The governor noted that the major remaining legislative priority was to create the office of state comptroller and requiring grain dealers to be bonded.

On Friday, Gov. Ogilvie signed a bill banning sale of academic term papers and book reports. Also signed were measures creating the office of state comptroller and requiring grain dealers to be bonded.

Men Accost Truck Driver; Hit in Face

Ron Sargent, 1629 Wellington Heights, an employee of Nameoki Murdock Beer Distributing Co., was struck in the face about 3:30 p.m. Thursday when accosted by three men on Missouri Avenue.

Sargent told police he was driving south on Missouri Avenue, near 21st Street, to make a delivery when the driver of an auto at the rear of his truck began honking the horn.

Sargent said he pulled to the curb and three men alighted from the vehicle, described as an older model car, and asked if the truck driver worked for "Vesco." It was when he replied affirmatively that one of the three men struck him about the face, he said. All three were of husky build, he added.

The distributing company employee was unable to recall further details, but said he drove to a local veterinarian's shop where he called his employer and reported the incident.

'Exchanging' Properties Beats Capital Gains Tax

By JAMES M. WOODARD
Copy News Service

Today's superactive real estate sales market could phase into a major trend toward "exchanging" properties. This prediction has been expressed recently by a number of real estate professionals.

Exchanging, like trading in the family auto on a shiny new model, is a practical means of attaining a desired new property and totally avoid (defer) payment of a tax.

Much fuel is given the tax reform talk in an election year. But scraping away the vote promoting verbiage, many real estate leaders believe some action to modify or eliminate capital gains tax is very likely.

One reason is that over two-thirds of the corporate stock in the U. S. is now owned by only 1% of the population. Public pressure to make it more difficult for people to accumulate wealth is mounting.

Many politicians are now advocating tax reforms to plug so-called "tax loopholes." One of the primary targets is the capital gains tax.

CARE TIPS FOR OUTDOOR FURNITURE

Although outdoor furniture is built to take hard wear and exposure to hot sun and heavy rains a few minutes of extra care can protect its appearance and durability.

Wash aluminum furniture occasionally with soap and water. If you want to brighten the finish rub the metal with a wax-based cleaner or fine steel wool.

After cleaning, apply a light cover of auto wax for weather protection.

A coat of paint will protect steel and iron from rusting. But your furniture already has rust spots, clean them with steel wool.

During summer, wash redwood furniture occasionally with soap and water. At the end of the summer season, give it a coat of penetrating sealer. Don't use varnish or shellac on it.

Cover redwood, if left outdoors for the winter.

Rattan needs routine dusting. Once a year wash it with a mild soap and water solution.

When polish with a liquid wax. Furniture cushions and pads may be air-tight and waterproof, but dampness still seeps through the seams. All cushions will wear longer if protected from rain, so cover them with plastic or rubber cover at night or during rough weather.

Also, as part of the policy, the association gives the borrower or the option of paying two years taxes and insurance premiums in a frozen savings account which would earn at passbook interest rates.

Q. Is the big flurry about the future prospects of manufactured housing now tapering off?

A. The future of mass-produced "modular" housing is as bright as ever. Current trends in the housing field would enhance its prospects, rather than diminish them.

By 1975 about half of all new housing in this country will be loan association in Miami, Fla. factory built, it was predicted recently by the National Association of Building Manufacturers.

Q. Why don't banks and savings and loan associations pay interest on funds they hold in escrow and "impound" accounts?

A. Tradition, and probably lack of pressure from mortgage loan borrowers are the primary reasons.

However, one savings and loan association in Miami, Fla., has reportedly started a policy of paying 3 per cent on the average daily balance in such accounts.

The decisional board ruled that the American party petitions lacked enough signatures. The other two parties declined to sign loyalty oaths and the board noted that Mrs. Linda Jenness, Socialist Worker candidate for President, is too young to serve in that office.

In effect endorsing Governor Richard B. Ogilvie's efforts to establish a St. Louis metropolitan airport at Columbia-Waterloo, Ill., Dan Walker, the Nov. 7 gubernatorial challenger, said last week in East St. Louis that this region's economic future lies directly to development of the airport and a mass transit system to its site. However, he charged that Gov. Ogilvie has ignored Madison and St. Clair Counties.

A similar airport stand was taken Thursday in Belleville by Congressman Norman Pataki, Democrat, who said Illinois Senate, who said Illinois should begin construction of the airport with its own resources if necessary. Pataki added that if elected he will open a Senate office in East St. Louis.

The Illinois Conference of Teamsters on Thursday endorsed Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie for re-election. President E. E. Hughes said the 57-county group "felt we must speak up and support Gov. Ogilvie — a man who has done more for the working men and women of Illinois than any other governor in the history of this state."

Sen. George McGovern, Democratic Presidential candidate, scoffed yesterday at a new poll indicating most young people and workers will vote for President Nixon.

"I don't believe that poll. Any young person or any man or woman who works with his hands for a living who is for Mr. Nixon is too confused to know which end is up," he addressed a crowd of over 10,000 at Espanola, N. M.

Having earlier promised there will be a woman on the U. S. Supreme Court, McGovern pledged Sunday that he would appoint someone with a Spanish name to his Cabinet if elected.

Revenue Agent Cited; Reported Bribe Offer

Paul J. Mueller, a revenue officer in the Internal Revenue Service, East St. Louis Office, has received a citation from Commissioner of Internal Revenue Johnnie M. Walters, for reporting a bribe offer made to him by a taxpayer.

The taxpayer offering the bribe was arrested, pleaded guilty to the attempted bribery charge, and was sentenced to three years confinement, the first six months in a jail-type institution and the remaining 2½ years on probation.

In complimenting Mueller, Commissioner Walters pointed out that his "forthright action not only serves as an outstanding example of the honesty and integrity of IRS employees, but also will serve as a deterrent to others who could attempt to destroy our effectiveness by seeking to corrupt our employees."

Since Jan. 1, 1961, 878 IRS employees, engaged in every level of service operations, have reported bribery attempts. During the decade 236 persons were arrested or indicted for bribery attempts. As of June 30, 1971, 156 had been convicted or had pleaded guilty and another 51 were awaiting trial.

Sharp Increase In Farm Exports From This State

In an open letter to Illinois farmers, Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on Thursday praised the resounding success of all of you in extending our lead in world markets.

The governor's action followed announcement that the Illinois share of farm goods exported from the U. S. increased from $655 million to $758 million in the year ending June 30.

Included in the Illinois sales were nearly $281 million in soybeans and $214 million in feed grains.

Closest competitor to Illinois producers was Iowa with $620 million in foreign sales, followed by California, Texas, North Carolina and Indiana. Total sales were $8 billion nationally.

The governor said, "The commanding lead your products have given the economy of Illinois through foreign sales took a sharp jump in the year ending June 30, according to official U. S. Department of Agriculture figures. Your resounding success is remarkable, and I tip my hat to every one of you."

"It's of special interest that the Number One state—Illinois—not only held its lead over all other states, but showed a dramatic increase in sales in one year's time."

"As I write you now, corn and bean contracts increased on the Chicago market in expectation of further trade expansion abroad."

"Few things that we do in Illinois are as important as our farm exports to the economy of Illinois and the nation. Facing a massive trading deficit in overall exports abroad, this country should give fervent thanks to its farmers for helping to offset this troublesome situation."

"I am convinced that the quality of our Illinois farm exports fully matches the quantity—and they reflect the pride with which you operate on acreages large or small. Your feet may be firmly planted on Illinois soil, but your influence extends to all parts of the world."

"I send my warmest congratulations—and assure that Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz and I will fight in every possible way for your continued success."

New Soccer Grounds Are Dedicated Sunday

Formal dedication of two new YMCA Steele soccer fields located at the east end of Buenger Boulevard, Wilshire Manor, took place Sunday afternoon.

The fields are named after Everett G. Steele, a local realtor, who donated the land. Father Lawrence Mattingly of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church gave the invocation, and 300 youth soccer players gave the pledge of allegiance.

Everett Demott, retiring soccer association president, spoke on the growth of the program in the past 15 years and cited the time and work that went into preparing the fields. He gave special thanks to people in the neighborhood who helped. He also praised the Granite City Optimist Club, St. Louis Slag Co., Illinois Power Co. and Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Ruben Mendoza, soccer director, and Kent Dunn, physical director for the "Y," also made brief remarks. Youthful Donnie Goldschmidt, one of the boys currently in the

JOHN BOBBY ERVIN

John Bobby Ervin A Red Hot Miner

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

John Bobby Ervin, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Ervin, 1212 Logan St., Venice, is coming known as the hottest thing going for the Miners of the University of Missouri at Rolla.

Ervin, a 5-11, 195-pound junior linebacker, may well have his helmet placed in the school's trophy case, according to Joe Keeton, defensive coach.

Scarred helmets have become the "thing" as a result of the evolution, in recent years, of the football helmet as a gridders' number one weapon. As a result of Ervin's fantastic feats of hard hitting this season, his helmet proudly tells the tale with streaks of paint from other players' helmets and uniforms.

Ervin is, according to minor coaches, probably the hardest hitter in the school's history. As a sophomore last season, he was honored three times with the "hit-of-the-week" award, which includes a trophy and a steak dinner. The award goes to the player who makes the hardest hit in each game.

In the Central Missouri State game, the receiver, the ball and Bobby all got to the same spot at the same time. I may have been the hardest hit I've ever seen," Keeton recalls. "The comment I heard from one of our players on the field was, 'There goes my steak dinner.'"

Ervin was Madison High School's scholar athlete one year and originally was recruited by Washington University, St. Louis. But he decided to stay in the summer of 1970 to attend UMR.

In his first year of college ball, Ervin was largely lost in the shuffle. He was tried at tight end and running back and completed the season as "monster man" on defense.

As a football Trojan in Madison, Ervin was a defensive back and split end.

He is well mannered, soft spoken and quite a singer, according to his teammates. The Miner coaching staff is taking a look at Ervin as a possible fullback, as it is felt that he could be a powerful runner. However, he also is handling linebacker duties well.

On a kickoff against Southwest Missouri State last year, Ervin was a blocker, but the ball came down short and he picked it up and ran.

He moved down the first three potential kickers, putting one out for the season. Twenty-seven yards later, he was finally put down.

As a result, he also has become regarded as invaluable for such "special squad" assignments as offense and defense for plays involving kicks.

Rain Nixes Races

A wet track and infield, caused by rain here Thursday, was responsible for cancellation of the auto racing card Friday evening at the Tri-City Speedway. Racing will continue Friday with time-trials at 7:30 p.m. and the first heat event at 8:30 p.m.

Trapping and Hunting Seasons For Fur Bearers Begin Nov. 11

Trapping and hunting seasons and regulations for fur bearing animals have been announced by Henry N. Barkhausen, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation.

Mink, muskrat, raccoon, opossum, skunk, weasel and red or gray fox trapping season will begin Nov. 11 and end Jan. 31.

The season for beaver trapping will begin Dec. 9 and run through Feb. 28. Beaver may be taken only with spring traps. Portions of Jo Daviess, Carroll, Whiteside and Rock Island counties west of Ill. 84 and U.S. 30, from Interstate 80 to the Wisconsin border, are closed to beaver trapping.

Raccoon, opossum, skunk and red or gray fox may be hunted beginning Nov. 11 and continuing through Jan. 31.

There will be no hunting of these species on Nov. 17, 18 and 19 and Dec. 8, 9 and 10 in counties open to deer hunting. Groundhogs may be hunted throughout the year except during Nov. 17, 18 and 19 and Dec. 8, 9 and 10 in counties open to deer hunting.

Upland game hunting will be permitted in all counties except Pope, Hardin, Jo Daviess and Carroll during the deer season. However, the hunter must wear a cap or vest or upper outer garment of a solid vivid red, yellow or orange.

All other counties where deer season is not established are open to hunting without restriction of the color of garments worn during the deer season.

Canvasbacks Banded

A five-man crew of wildlife biologists, working 30 days in central Saskatchewan, has successfully trapped, banded and released 283 immature canvasback ducks.

The Canvasback is one of two ducks — the other being the redhead — on which the U. S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has closed the season in Illinois and other states.

"This is the first year emphasis has been placed on banding in a major canvasback," said Gary Senn, waterfowl biologist for the Illinois Department of Conservation, and a member of the banding crew.

"Very little information has been gathered on the canvasback in the past. Illinois has always been a leader in waterfowl management, and now that we have large concentrations of canvasback in Illinois, we felt we should know as much about this species of duck as we can learn."

In the last several years canvasbacks have begun using Pool 19 of the Mississippi River near Hamilton as a major resting stop on their way to their wintering grounds.

An estimated 175,000, believed to be half of the continental population of canvasback, stop at Pool 19 during the year.

Senn took a portable 100-by-3-foot trap to Canada. The trap is made of one-inch nylon mesh, supported by aluminum rods.

He trapped with two biologists from the U.S. Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife and biologists from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department and the Arkansas Fish and Game Commission.

The biologists scouted areas for potholes and lakes with canvasback broods on them. When they discovered a brood they would put up their traps and drive the flightless birds into them.

"The adult canvasbacks were much more difficult to trap," Senn reported.

"We occasionally would catch a hen, although most of the time they would fly just before they went into the trap. And we never caught an adult drake during the 30 days."

By banding canvasbacks, biologists will gain information on mortality, migratory movements and their wintering grounds.

"Last year over 800 diving ducks were banded in Pool 19 in the permanent trap we have built there. Forty-four of these birds were canvasback."

Hartigan Proposes a Conservation Corps, Work for Scholarship Aid

Breaking with tradition, Neil Hartigan, Democratic candidate for lieutenant governor, opened the Democratic state platform hearing last week by offering 25 suggestions for the 1972 state platform.

An Illinois Youth Conservation Corps and a new State Community Work/Scholarship Program were among the proposals presented by Hartigan, a member of the committee.

The committee gathering, held in Springfield, also heard Hartigan call for creation of a State Park and Recreation Academy, state reinsurance of employee pension plans and a variety of measures to aid Spanish-speaking residents of the state.

Asked why he was presenting so many ideas, Hartigan said, "The Democratic Party has always been the party of meaningful change. If we are to remain responsive to the basic needs of all the people, we must help create intelligent and innovative solutions for the state's real problems."

It was not the first time that the 34-year-old Hartigan had presented his ideas to the state platform committee. Two years ago, he supplied the committee with a list of proposed innovations in government, some of which were included in the platform and adopted into law.

"The Youth Conservation Corps," Hartigan said last week, "would create new opportunities for young people who are not headed for college. It would be the modern equivalent of the CCC — the Civilian Conservation Corps — that served the country so well during the Depression.

"It would take youths out of their immediate environment and offer them both work experience and basic educational skills."

"It would be administered in conjunction with the work of state agencies involved in management of state parks, recreation areas, forest and soil conservation programs."

"The Community Work/Scholarship Program would help alleviate the financial burden of higher education by linking scholarships with community service work."

"Each young man or woman who receives a state scholarship would be required to work 10 to 15 hours each week, or during the summer, as paraprofessionals in such fields as mental health, ecology, recreation, public education and assistance to the elderly.

"The people served by the state's more than 300 park districts would benefit from creation of a State Park and Recreation Academy."

"It would be similar in some respects to our police and fire academies and would train leisure service employees in new outdoor techniques and modern recreational methodology."

"State reinsurance of pension plans would ensure that those who had labored all their lives and were entitled to a private pension plan would actually receive that benefit. It would help ensure a secure retirement for thousands of our citizens."

The lieutenant governor nominee said conversations with Illinois citizens have convinced him that "they don't

Drive Continues to Collect Sewer Fees

The office of Granite City Treasurer Paul Rutledge has collected approximately 33% of delinquent sewer rental fees during the past two months and plans to continue a drive to collect all unpaid fees, Rutledge reported Friday.

A total of $19,000 has been collected since the drive to eliminate a delinquency of $57,000 in the city's sewer accounts was begun in mid-July, Rutledge said. This leaves about $38,000 still to be collected, he said.

He said his office will concentrate the drive on back fees due for sewer rental in the Nameoki area. He said several cases are pending in court and that other suits will be filed soon.

'War of the Bands' Set Sunday, Oct. 1, at YMCA

Area music groups are invited to register for the "War of the Bands" contest to be sponsored again this year by the Granite City Jaycees. The event will take place at 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 1, at the Tri-Cities Area YMCA.

John Fornaszewski, Jaycee project chairman and a local musician, said the YMCA was selected as the contest site due to skating sessions starting the same day at Wilson Park rink pavilion. The music marathon has been staged the past several years at the park facility.

Following a revised pattern set last year, competition will be divided into two distinct segments, the chairman said. Rock or pop groups will compete in one division and folk groups in a separate category, he explained.

"War of the Bands" may register by calling, 877-9475, or going in person to Fornaszewski's Music Store, 3009 Nameoki Road.

Young musicians up to 21 years may compete in the annual music contest, the Jaycee director said.

Free coupons, which entitle the bearer to a 25-cent discount from the $1.75 admission price to the event are being distributed at local schools and business firms, Fornaszewski said.

Illinois Workers Underpaid by $6- Million in Year

U. S. Labor Department investigators found that 29,408 workers in Illinois were underpaid $6,509,211 during the 1971-72 fiscal year, a Labor Department official said last week.

Gerald J. Mitchell, regional administrator of the department's Employment Standards Administration, said the violations of the Fair Labor Standards Act and other federal wage and hour laws were uncovered during investigations of 2,855 business establishments in the state during the 12-month period.

Investigators also found 2,009 minor children employed in violation of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

The investigations were conducted by three area offices of the Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division in Illinois. The division is part of the U.S. Minimum wage underpayments amounted to $1,676,268.

Most of the balance of the underpayments — $3,698,248 — represented failure of employers to pay the required premium pay for overtime hours.

Mitchell said most employers make good the underpayments voluntarily when informed about them. In other cases, an employer can seek redress through the courts or ask the Secretary of Labor to file a suit on his behalf.

Except for farms, the federal minimum wage is now $1.60 an hour. The minimum wage for those farm workers covered by the law is $1.30.

For most workers, the Fair Labor Standards Act requires time and one-half rates for overtime work after 40 hours in a week. Employers must pay employees of both sexes the same rates for doing similar work in the same workplace.

The Fair Labor Standards Act also restricts hours and working conditions for minors. Information concerning federal wage and hour laws may be obtained from area offices of the Wage and Hour Division. There are two in Chicago and the Springfield area offices at 101 S. 8th St., Springfield, Ill., 62701, phone (217) 525-4064.

Appellate Court Defender Agency Operation Studied

Copley News Service
Springfield — Plans currently being formulated on how the state appellate court defender agency will operate.

The new program will go into operation Oct. 1. That is the date for its effectiveness as contained in the legislation signed into law on Aug. 18 by Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

The agency apparently will take over the duties and programs now operated by the Illinois Defender Project. It will provide the legal counsel for the indigent persons who go into the appellate court system of Illinois.

Under the provisions of the new law a nine-member state appellate defender commission will be formulated. The commission's job will be to advise the defender and it will also establish policies and programs for the operation of the office.

The Illinois Supreme Court will appoint the state appellate defender.

To Name Chairman
Gov. Ogilvie is to appoint the chairman of the commission along with one other member.

The remaining members will be appointed by the Illinois Supreme Court and the five state appellate courts.

Presently, aides to Ogilvie said, the governor is studying possible appointments that he might make to the commission. Apparently at this time the feeling is that employees of the defender project will be turned over to the new agency.

Just how soon the new agency will be in full operation is not completely determined. State officials are hopeful that it can be in virtually complete operation by the end of this year.

First Phase of Dobrey Project Set Next Month

Procedural plans for construction of the Dobrey Slough drainage canal from the Dobrey area in Nameeki Township to Horseshoe Lake were outlined in a meeting of state, city, township and levee district officials Friday at the home of Granite City Mayor Donald Pinner, 3600 Illinois Ave.

John Guillou, chief engineer of the Illinois Division of Waterways, who will direct a project sponsored by Governor Richard B. Ogilvie, told the group that plans for a $4.5 million drainage channel will hinge up the availability of federal funds, but that in any event the drainage of the Dobrey Slough will be accomplished.

Guillou also told the meeting that the first phase of drainage improvements will consist of installation of a culvert at the south end of Horseshoe Lake to expedite drainage from the lake into the Cahokia Drainage Canal. Guillou said that plans for this project in early October, Guillou said.

Attending the informational session were Mayor Pinner, Granite City Attorney Leon Scroggins, Venice Mayor John E. Lee, Madison Mayor Mike Sisk, Helen Hawkins, chairman of the Citizens Environmental Committee; Walter Sparks, supervisor of Chouteau Township.

Albert Bell, highway commissioner of Nameeki Township; Howard Kaseberg, representing the ABLE Committee; Thomas Boker, alderman of the seventh Granite City Ward; William "Mike" Ebersold, president of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District; and Helen Christich, secretary to Ebersold.

Workshop on Space, Matter Planned Here

A Time, Space and Matter workshop sponsored by the University of Wisconsin-Superior in Granite City will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. Wednesdays, beginning this week.

Team teachers for the course, which will be held in room 408 at Gregory Junior High School, will be Patricia Mueller, 1527 Lindell Blvd., and David McClain, 23 William John Court. The program is supported by a grant from the National Science Foundation.

TSM is an innovative junior high school physical science program developed by scientists and educators at Princeton University. Astronomy and physics are interwoven in the study of spatial relationships and motions of celestial bodies.

Investigation of the materials of which the earth is composed involves both geology and chemistry. Through the TSM course, the student encounters and uses many concepts from all of the physical sciences.

Any teacher of physical science interested in attending the Granite City workshop may contact the team teachers or Dr. Gordon O. C. Besch, University of Wisconsin, Superior, Wis. 54880.

There is no tuition fee and those who successfully complete the course will receive two graduate credits from UW-Superior.

Court Maintains Circuit Clerks Subject to Vote

Circuit court clerks will be required to seek election in Nov. 7 balloting under a ruling in Springfield Thursday in which a circuit judge dismissed a petition for an injunction seeking to remove the circuit clerk posts from this year's general election.

Three circuit clerks who filed the original petition filed a new suit immediately—with the same objective. The court proceedings in both instances have been filed in behalf of the Illinois Circuit Clerk's Association.

Circuit Judge Paul C. Verticchio dismissed the first petition which asked the court to forbid the State Electoral Board from certifying names of circuit court clerk candidates for placement on the election ballots in November.

The suit alleged that the 1970 Illinois Constitution failed to provide provisions for the election of circuit clerks and that the Illinois General Assembly has not passed legislation providing for such an election.

The clerks' petition said that incumbent circuit clerks therefore should continue to remain in office until election legislation is passed by the General Assembly.

Judge Verticchio held that while no provision for an election was contained in the 1970 constitution, a 1962 law requiring county clerks to put the names of circuit court candidates on the ballot as county officers "is not contrary to, nor inconsistent with the 1970 constitution."

The new suit, to be heard later by Judge Verticchio, asks that county clerks be restrained from placing circuit clerk candidates on the November ballot.

Armed Robber Takes Loot in Army Socks

A lone gunman, armed with a revolver and a pair of Army issue socks, held up an attendant at the Moto Service Station, 1639 Madison Ave., at 3:30 a.m. Friday and got away with an undetermined amount of cash.

Ernest Long, an employee at the station, said the robber approached him by peering through a lowered glass paneled, located on the north side of the station office.

Pointing the revolver through the glass, the slender, mustached gunman instructed Long to remove the money from the cash register and place it in a pair of Army issue socks which the robber passed through the window.

The holdup man was described as white, between 20 and 25 years old, about 5 feet, 10 inches tall and weighing 160 pounds. His brown hair was worn long, but not "hippie" length. Long said, and he was wearing a long-sleeved dark shirt.

Salvation Army Staff Band To Present Concert Here

The Salvation Army Chicago Staff Band will appear here at 7 p.m. Sept. 30 at Central Junior High School auditorium to present a public concert of world-famous selections.

Tickets now are on sale at the local Salvation Army office, 1909 Grand Ave., or by calling 451-7957. Tickets cost $2 for adults and $1.50 for students. Children under 5 will be admitted free, according to Captain Ronald Kerley, administrator of the Quad-City office.

Throughout its long and colorful history, the Chicago Staff Band has become world famous. One of only six staff bands in the Salvation Army world, it has been acclaimed by leading musicians for its purity of tone, its sensitive interpretations and its quality of musicianship, Capt. Kerley said.

The band has traveled extensively in the United States and Canada and also has appeared in Great Britain. Its engagements have included guest appearances at music educators' conferences and prison chapel services, college convocations and street meetings, worship services and concerts, religious festivals and civic parades and the Veiled Prophets parade.

Personnel has varied from the youthful corps cadet to the veteran officer, from student to college professor. Of the more than 300 men who have been members of the band, approximately half have been Salvation Army Officers. The remainder have been Salvationist laymen working in a wide variety of vocations. All have contributed their time and talents as a Christian service in order they might continue the ministry of "The Band With The Sacred Message," Capt. Kerley added.

Pucinski Favors Embargo Against Arab Terrorism

Congressman Roman Pucinski, Democratic candidate for the United States Senate, called last week for a quarantine and economic embargo against Arab states if it is determined that the Munich Olympics terrorists were financed and supported by Arab governments.

"It is my judgment that the free world must immediately establish whether there is a link between these terrorists and the Arab states. If the Arab states are financing and supporting these terrorists, then the free world ought to react by a quarantine and economic embargo," Pucinski said.

"The U. S. ought to lead the way as we did in the 1880s when America severed diplomatic relations with Czarist Russia because of the programs," Pucinski said.

"This world can no longer sit idly by and watch this mounting wave of terrorism against institutions of freedom. If we do nothing, if we do not react, if we do not force Arab states to take action against terrorists, then our own freedom is seriously endangered."

Kucharski Would End $8 Fee for the Aged

Edmund J. Kucharski, Republican candidate for secretary of state, last week told a group of senior citizens that as secretary he would ask for legislation to eliminate the fee on driver licenses for all persons 65 years of age and older.

"Our senior citizens face ever-increasing costs, rising prices and inflation, and yet their incomes do not go up. I think they deserve help and recognition for the productive years they have given to society," the candidate said.

Kucharski addressed senior citizens of Thornton Township. The fee on the driver license, as set by the Illinois General Assembly, is presently $8 for three years.

He said this concept is in keeping with similar government programs, such as Gov. Ogilvie's Homestead Exemption Act and others, designed to give financial help to the aged.

Kucharski explained that he has already proposed that driver licenses be revised to include vital medical information, such as blood type, severe reactions to any medication and whether a person has a disease such as diabetes or heart trouble.

The candidate added that he supports legislation to create an identification card with a photo for non-drivers which would contain information similar to that on the driver license.

This type of card also should be free to senior citizens, Kucharski said, commenting that the card would receive the same acceptability for identification purposes as does the driver license.

Cost Cut for Hard-to-Insure Urban Property

A complete overhaul of the Illinois FAIR Plan aimed at reducing costs has resulted, after nine months, in a request for the Illinois Insurance Department for a reduction in rates.

If approved, 100,000 Illinois property owners would begin receiving a 16.7% decrease in rates.

The Illinois FAIR Plan Association was created by the State Legislature in August 1968 to take advantage of incentives offered by the Federal Housing Act of that year.

"It represents an effort by the private insurance industry to provide fire, windstorm, rpl. vandalism and malicious mischief coverage to urban property owners otherwise unable to obtain such insurance, or who would have to pay high premiums," the FAIR Plan said.

Presently, the FAIR Plan has $1,682,110,000 in property coverage in force.

Clarence R. Rauter, chairman of the governing board, said the request for a decrease results largely from changes in FAIR Plan operations introduced last December. "For example, since then we lowered overhead expense from 32 cents of each premium dollar to 22 cents. We saved policyholders about $1 million in expenses during this period."

Rauter added that the change in operations not only achieved an expense reduction, but stemmed loss costs. Prior to changing operations, the FAIR Plan was using 78.3 cents of premium dollars to pay losses; this has been reduced to 57.6 cents.

"Factors include centralized operations, better underwriting, and a more efficient claims process," Rauter said.

Youths Face Fines For Shooting Birds

Donald Hastings of the Illinois Department of Conservation has warned that area youths face arrest for shooting songbirds.

Numerous complaints of such offenses have been received in the Quad-City area, especially in the vicinity of Honey Grove and Maryville Road near the Granite City limits, Hastings said.

He noted that almost every bird is protected by state and federal law. "Only the starling and common sparrow may be killed, he said. The starling is not to be confused with the grackle or red wing blackbird. Both the long-tail, purple-headed grackle or common blackbird and the red-wing are protected. The starling is a small short-tailed bird, a plump member of the blackbird family.

Hastings said he has asked assistance of city police and county sheriff's deputies in watching for infractions of this law.

Offending juveniles will be taken before the juvenile officer. Fines for conviction of the offense range from $25 to $500 under state law and even higher under federal law.

Parents should be aware of what their children are doing with BB guns or air rifles, Hastings said. They also should remember that under civil law any one who possesses an air or pellet rifle of over .177 caliber must also have a state firearm ID card regardless of age if not with the parent when using or carrying it, he said.

The band will appear here for a concert Sept. 30 at Central Junior High School auditorium.

GC Schools Buy Driver Training Simulator Unit

A $29,340 driver education training simulator was purchased last week by the Granite City Board of Education for use at Granite City High School.

The mobile unit, which will train 14 drivers simultaneously, was bought on the low bid of Singer-Link. Bids on three other simulators, one from Singer-Link at $34,633, and two from Aetna of $28,240 and $32,178, were rejected.

"An additional $400 cost will be incurred for installation. One-half of the total cost of $29,740 will be reimbursed by the Highway Safety Department."

The board also purchased two Monroe adding machines at $139 each on low bids.

Special Education Costs
Thirty-a-day transportation costs were approved for six special education students who will attend classes outside of the district and one will attend classes at Madison, one will be at East Alton, one will be enrolled in the South Roxana district and one will attend school at the Meriam School in Webster Groves, Mo.

Transportation costs to Johnson School also were approved for a physically handicapped student. All special education costs will be 80% reimbursed by the state.

Two students from Madison and Alton were accepted for special education courses.

Purchase Lights
Graybar Electric Co. Inc. was awarded a $1,597 contract for installation of 13 emergency lighting units at Prather and Coolidge junior high schools and the high school. The units are necessary for compliance with the Life Safety Code. The contract was awarded on low bid. Other bidders were Brown Electrical Supply, Glasco Electrical Co. and Barrett Electrical Supply.

National Peace Officers' Press was low bidder on printing books that will be used for the Officer Friendly Program in conjunction with the Granite City Police Department. The contract is for 6,025 books at $1,350. Higher bidders were Prestige Printing, Tri-City Printing and Copy Cat Speed Printing.

The board approved the purchase of 30 bags of insecticide material for the Granite City High School football field from Home Nursery Greenhouses Inc., at $147, and approved $414 for Kamadiski Excavating for moving and spreading dirt on the athletic fields at the new high school.

Kraft Foods was awarded a contract for cheese on low bid of 64 cents per pound. Bids from independent Foods Corp., Land O'Lakes Inc., Miller Provisions Co. and Tarias Meats and Food Products Co. were rejected.

Bills ordered paid included $57,533 from the educational fund, $47,318 from the building fund and $258 from the joint agreement fund.

Tax Benefits on Political Contributions Explained

This year, for the first time, contributors to political campaigns may obtain income tax benefits in the form of either a credit against taxes owed or a deduction from taxable income.

Would an eligible taxpayer be wise to take the credit or the deduction? It depends on the amount contributed, whether the taxpayer is filing an individual or a joint return and, most of all, his tax rate, according to the Missouri and Illinois Societies of Certified Public Accountants.

The credit is allowed for half of the amount contributed, up to a maximum of $12.50 ($25 on a joint return), while a deduction can be taken for the full amount contributed, up to $50 ($100 on a joint return). "Persons in higher brackets gain greater benefits by taking the deduction, say the CPAs."

For example, a person in the 60% tax bracket filing a joint return who treats a $100 contribution as a deduction reduces his taxes by $60, whereas if he takes the credit his saving is only $25.

Who should take the credit instead of the deduction? Generally, persons with a tax rate under 25%; this includes most people whose taxable income on a joint return is less than $16,000.

If in doubt, the CPAs suggest that tax results be computed both ways to see which brings the greater benefit.

If the taxpayer takes the standard deduction, he cannot claim the political contribution as a deduction, but he can take it as a credit.

The accounting groups warn that not all political contributions are eligible for the tax credit or deduction. The contribution must be to a national political party, or to an announced candidate for national, state or local office (or to an organization set up to help elect him).

In the case of contributions to a candidate rather than a party, the money must be for use in the campaign.

Contributions to political action groups having functions other than electing candidates are not eligible.

The CPAs recommend that receipts, cancelled checks and other evidence of political contributions be retained, since the Internal Revenue Service requires that the taxpayer must be able to document such gifts.

More Bills Signed to Set 18 as Age of Adulthood

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie on Thursday signed three measures which he said "extend and continue the process of setting the age of 18 as the age of adulthood."

Under state law, each existing provision of hundreds of laws affecting minors had to be changed individually, the governor noted. He commented: "Today we are assuring young people of adult wages and working conditions, as well as full driver's licensing rights."

"These bills virtually complete the process of eliminating the inequities and anachronisms created by the approval of the right to vote at 18."

"Some of these inequities were between the sexes, or were created by concepts and social conditions of an earlier era."

Parsons 18 can now vote, serve in the armed forces, and should be qualified under the law to be recognized as adults with the opportunities and responsibilities that imply."

Specific bills approved by Ogilvie today were:

—House Bill 4439 sets 18 instead of 19 as the age when the state's minimum wage act is effective.

—House Bill 4438 amends the child labor act to make the cutoff age for males 18 to conform to the provision applying to females. Formerly the age for males was 21.

—House Bill 4444 permits persons 18 to be issued driver's licenses and permits without parental consent. The age limit formerly was 21.

The measures were sponsored in the House by State Rep. James Nowlan of Toulon and in the Senate by Sen. Charles Chew Jr. of Chicago and William C. Harris of Pontiac.

Ogilvie supported a bill to permit persons 18 to buy beer and wine, but the measure failed in the Senate. Thus the major remaining privilege not extended to this age group relates to alcoholic beverages.

MRS. GERALD DORTCH. The former Miss Kathryn Kula, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kula, 2443 Delmar Ave., was married Saturday afternoon at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

Sacred Heart Scene of Dortch-Kula Wedding

Miss Kathryn Kula and Gerald Dortch exchanged wedding vows in an afternoon ceremony on Saturday, at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

Arrangements of white summer flowers in tall urns decorated the altar and trinity candelabra holding lighted tapers were placed at either side to create the setting for the 2 o'clock service. White satin bows marked the pews.

The Rev. Daniel Flynn of Sacred Heart Church and the Rev. Henry Crippen, pastor of Word of Life Tabernacle, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Kula is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kula, 2443 Delmar Ave. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orman Dortch, reside at 2808 Warren Ave.

Miss Debbie Highower sang "Speak Softly Love," "The Wedding Prayer," "A Wedding Benediction" and "Ave Maria," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Elaine Scott.

The bride selected a gown fashioned of silk tulle, designed in an Empire style with an A-line skirt.

Alenon lace motifs etched with tiny gold pearls were applied on the fitted bodice and skirt. The high neckline was accented with delicate lace and lace was repeated on the long bishop sleeves and wide cuffs.

Matching lace motifs edged the softly flowing classic train. She wore a mantilla veil of imported bridal illusion, trimmed with lace medallions and secured to a white satin crown. Her bouquet was an arrangement of phalaenopsis orchids and variegated ivy.

Each girl wore a matching picture hat and carried a nosegay of white daisies, apricot miniature carnations and baby breath.

The groom chose Danny Warfield as best man. Robert Dortch, a brother of the groom, Bill Lueben and Mike Johnson were groomsmen. Ushers were Robert Conway and John Hornberger.

A reception was given at the DAV Hall in Granite City after the service. Presiding over the guest book was Miss Mary and Dolores Kula, sisters of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dortch, the groom's parents, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner at Charlie's Restaurant.

Mrs. Kula, mother of the bride, wore a dress-coat ensemble of mint green polyester. Bands of delicate lace accented the round neckline, sleeves and bodice.

The groom's mother chose an A-line dress of aqua blue shantung made with a beaded neckline. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Granite City High School and are in their junior year at Southern Illinois University, Edwardsville. Mr. Dortch is employed at Kozay's Market.

'Fair Share' by Each Resident, Employee Vital to United Fund

As United Fund Campaign Chairman Paul H. Kelly commented at a meeting Sept. 6 of the drive's all-man division, the group seeking Professional Division pledges, the UF traditionally has relied on employees and owners of large businesses and in industries for much of the member agencies' financial support.

With some of our major employers having left the area and with others cut back in employment, fewer people are employed in the area served by the Tri-Cities United Fund," he continued. "That's why we must count on increased contributions from people who have given in the past if we are to make our $413,661 goal."

Another United Fund enthusiast, veteran of many of the local campaigns, last week commented to us that corporate contributions alone accounted for over half of each year's goal. But the community is changing, and the outlook for industry is changing. With many firms earning lower profits, and some losing money, it is clear that individuals must pick up more of the load.

The points are well taken. Quad-Cityans clearly have the ability to put the drive over the top this October, but it is equally clear that there is nothing automatic about it; success hinges directly on whether each of us gives generously—and more generously than in the past.

The "fair share" formula by its very nature assures victory for this community in its United Fund campaign, if the formula for the amount of the gifts is followed. And there is every incentive to do just that, since—as the name says—each share is a fair one.

Festival's Orchestra a Pacesetter in Contemporary Music

The St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, one of the stars of the annual Mississippi River Festival concert series in Madison County, has received the 1971-72 American Society of Composers, Authors and Publishers (ASCAP) Major Orchestra Award for "rendering the greatest service to contemporary music."

Prizes are presented to those American orchestras which have programmed the largest number of compositions written since 1940. The award, consisting of $2,000, also was presented to two other major orchestras, the Philadelphia Orchestra and the Chicago Symphony Orchestra.

"Among the 11 works in this category performed by the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra were two premieres and one American premiere, "Design for Percussion and Orchestra" by Lohrer Klein received its world premiere in St. Louis, and Jerry Goldsmith's "Music for Orchestra," also was heard for the first time. Two Rustic Israeli Dances" by Max Brod received its American premiere.

The 1971-72 ASCAP Award marks the second time that the St. Louis Symphony has received this award during the four-year tenure of Music Director and Conductor Walter Susskind; the orchestra also won the award in 1969-1970.

Half of Cases of Blindness Could Be Prevented, Studies Show

September marks the 23rd annual Sight-Saving Month campaign of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness. The organization has a single goal: to prevent that half of all blindness which is, in fact, needless and preventable.

Although activities continue year-round, during Sight-Saving Month the Society and its state affiliates mount an especially intense drive to promote vision conservation among the nation's citizens.

Of the thousands of men, women and children who it is estimated will become blind in the next twelve months, a full half will lose their vision needlessly.

Accidents will be responsible for loss of sight for many—accidents which, though often unavoidable themselves, need not result in serious injury or blindness if proper safety measures are taken. For others, blindness will be caused by diseases which frequently can be controlled if they are detected and treated early enough. And ignorance and neglect will be a directly contributing factor in thousands of cases.

The Press-Record endorses the work of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness in its continuing efforts to fight needless vision loss and encourage good eye health for all Americans.

The Society, founded in 1908, is the oldest voluntary health agency nationally engaged in the prevention of blindness and expanded methods of prevention.

Some Olympics Athletes Utilize Hazardous Steroids

(The Olympics have focused attention on exceptional athletic performance and on how drugs may affect them. This article by the American Association for the Advancement of Science discusses one of the most controversial of such drugs, anabolic steroids.)

Exceptional body strength and athletic skill may no longer be simply a matter of arduous training and endurance. Powerful drugs called anabolic steroids are being used by many athletes to help them gain weight and build strong muscles.

Steroids are synthetic derivatives of male sex hormones. Since little research has been done on them, their effects are largely unknown. Meanwhile, many athletes and body builders are taking massive doses of these drugs.

The growing use of steroids in the U. S. has been examined by Nicholas Wade.

Sports doctors and sports officials insist that steroids are ineffective and have unpleasant side effects.

The International Olympic Committee medical commission warns in a booklet called "Drug Testing" that "anabolic steroids can severely harm the health, causing liver and bone damage, disturbances in the metabolism and sexual functions, and among women, virilization and menstrual upset."

Despite professional opinions and ample fact that an amateur athlete caught taking a nontherapeutic drug will be disqualified, the drugs are widely used.

Donald Cooper, medical committee chairman of the National Collegiate Athletic Association, says that 80% to 90% of all weight lifters take steroids.

The editor of "Muscular Development," John Griek, estimates that between 90% and 100% of the contestants for Mr. America in 1971 were taking or had experienced steroids.

In medicine, these drugs are legitimately used only to treat debilitated patients and such diseases as pituitary dwarfism.

Thus, in order to obtain steroids, athletes must usually turn to the black market or to underground pharmacies.

Steroids were originally used during World War II by German troops to increase aggressiveness; and some survivors of Nazi concentration camps were later given the drugs to help build body weight.

Steroids were first used by athletes in 1954, when the Russians gave them to their Olympic team.

Even as late as 1965, the drugs were used mainly by body builders and weight lifters—but today usage seems to have become a common practice.

Dr. Ziegler, a Maryland physician, tested the new anabolic steroids on athletes. His early conclusion was that the drugs were effective, but later he believed that with normal people their influence was negligible.

Dr. Ziegler found, for example, that subjects claimed the same improvements whether they received steroids or a placebo, which is a harmless sugar-coated pill used in drug testing. A person participating in a drug test never knows whether he is receiving the drug or a placebo.

Extensive research was done by Dr. J. P. O'Shea of Oregon State University, who gave steroids to several subjects.

He found that those receiving the drug gained weight, increased weight and muscle strength over non-drug-using subjects.

With moderate doses, Dr. O'Shea found no sexual side effects. The only negative effects were muscle cramps, which could be overcome by magnesium tablets.

He discovered that excessive doses could be harmful, and that the drugs caused premature formation of the long-bones (found in limbs where they afford support and leverage to motion) in young boys and may, in certain cases, stunt growth.

Athletes are being placed under great pressure to use them, perhaps, approaches the limits of his normal physiology.

It is hoped, Wade says, that victory in the Olympics and other athletic events will not become a question of who has the best doctors and chemists.

Federal Spending Must Be Factor in Curbing Inflation

Copley News Service

On Aug. 15, 1971, President Nixon, alarmed at runaway inflation, used his executive powers decisively to declare a 90-day freeze on wages, prices and rents.

At that time, it was his hope that the inflation could be controlled without mandatory restrictions on profits and incomes. The rest is history.

Long before the 90-day period had expired, it was apparent that some form of coercion was necessary; that a gentle tug of the reins was just not going to be enough.

The Pay Board and the Price Commission became household words.

Today, more than a year later, it is clear that the controls have worked reasonably well, despite often heated discussions. Prices are trending toward a 2.5% annual increase—a rate considered acceptable.

Wage increases are near the 5.5% goal established a year ago.

While inflation still is a problem, the International Monetary Fund reports that the United States has done the best job among all industrial nations in curbing its runaway tendencies.

As of May, U. S. consumer prices were 3.3% higher than they were during the same month last year—compared to 4.3% in Canada, 5.4% in Japan and 6.1% in Great Britain.

Most important of all, the output of the American worker—his productivity—rose at a rate of 6% in the last three months—more than double the rate since World War II.

Moreover, all of this has been done without establishing the massive and self-defeating bureaucracy that were hallmarks of all other attempts to control wages and prices.

The economic restrictions under which business and labor have operated are slowly diminishing; 56% of all workers are exempt from the 5.5% limit on wage increases, and more exemptions are added almost weekly.

The exemptions for business are keeping pace.

It is possible to foresee the day when the government will be able to send the wage and price commissioners home.

Even as this occurs, it becomes apparent that the principal contributor to inflation is government itself, particularly the federal government.

All economists will agree that excessive government spending pushes prices and wages upward.

Still, in the last decade, the federal establishment spent $37 billion more than it collected in taxes.

By the end of this fiscal year, it may have added $73 billion to the national debt.

Until a balance is struck, there is no way that a free marketplace can govern the economy.

Clearly the United States is coming to a crossroad point—the day when citizens will say to Washington, "We have done our share of belt tightening."

"Now the government must contribute its share."

WELFARE AID CALLED SOCIALISTIC FELONY

To the Editor:

Why are the American people tolerating the welfare state at all?

What is the real reason for welfare state? Realistically this is a facade for egoism, for the desire to live in luxury. Tolerating of this left element by the American people is outrageous and shameful.

Probably most Americans have a lack of interest or disregard of the future ramifications. The term, welfare state implies a free ride.

The socialistic outrageousness leads to leisure and idle time. If the welfare state is instituted in this country, following this move will be a great support to the lower class.

The working lower income group may praise this left movement, but these people will be greatly fooled. The backbone of our country must wake up. To the people of our country, I say: Resist force your consciences.

Rain Fails to Break Heat Wave

A severe rainstorm which hit this community at 11 o'clock in the evening failed to break the intense heat wave which has been prevailing. The thermometer has registered more than 90 degrees on each day for a number of days. No heat prostrations have been reported locally, but the heat wave has claimed a number of victims in other parts of the country.

Part-Time Santos Shop Year Around

By VIRGINIA KNAUER

Special Assistant to President Nixon and Director of the White House Office of Consumer Affairs

Sometimes it is difficult being a grandmother—especially in deciding on toys to give the grandchildren. I know, I have bought many toys and games for my grandchildren through the years.

Decisions are not as difficult now for the oldest (she is 10), but decisions still have to be made.

Is the toy or game appropriate for each one's age? Is it something each will like? Is it safe?

More and more grandparents—and of course, parents—are becoming concerned about toy safety.

An unsafe toy can cut a child, cause burns and maybe cause death because a part of the toy (such as the squeaker from a squeeze toy) becomes lodged in his throat.

Santa will not start selecting this bagful of toys for several months, but part-time Santas—like myself and other parents and grandparents—don't wait for Christmas.

Anytime we're shopping for toys, we should keep in mind the following helpful hints in choosing safe toys.

1. Choose toys that are appropriate for the child's age and development. (Many toys have age-group labels on the package).

2. Remember that younger brothers and sisters may have access to toys bought for older children.

3. Check fabric labels for "non-flammable," "flame-resistant," or "flame-retardant" notices.

4. Check instructions. They should be easy to read and understand. Instruct the child in the proper use of the toy.

These hints come from the Federal Drug Administration's Bureau of Product Safety.

Last year, the Bureau banned more than 100 unsafe toys.

This year it is continuing its safety review of toys and is issuing guidelines to manufacturers on toy safety. It is banning toys that are hazardous.

The current list of banned toys, as well as the complete list of toys banned since December 1970, is available free by writing to L. J. Chisholm, Bureau of Product Safety, FDA, 401 Westward Ave., Bethesda, Md. 20816.

If you write to Mrs. Knaauer, address your card or letter to "Dear Virginia," Office of Consumer Affairs, Washington, D. C. 20508.

Ecology Cupboards Recommended in 'Give a Hoot, Don't Pollute' Drive

First of Two Columns

Since there are 52 weeks in a year, a semi-weekly newspaper such as the Press-Record publishes 104 issues every year.

An identical figure, 104, caught our attention in a batch of information provided by the Public Service Council and the U. S. Agriculture Department's Forest Service.

Themes of the environmental quality data is "Give a hoot! Don't pollute."

The message is relayed by a cartoon character, Woody Owl, who offers 104 ways that the public can help fight pollution. Here is part of the list:

No. 1 Learn these Woody Owl "Hoots," tell others about Woody Owl, and encourage them to help in our fight against pollution.

No. 2 Collect cans, bottles and papers and take them to the nearest recycling center. If there is no recycling center near you, contact your local city or county offices and encourage the establishment of such centers.

No. 3 Encourage Public Service groups to arrange for the collection of trash in your home town for recycling.

No. 4 Separate your household trash. Smash-cans and put in one box; bottles in another; papers in another. This makes recycling easier.

No. 5 Don't throw away old clothes and furniture. Give them to someone who can use them, or repair and sell. Everything that doesn't land in the trash pile means that much less to be thrown or disposed of in some way.

No. 6 Start an "ecology cupboard" in your home. Store reusable items like string, paper boxes, cartons, plastic containers, ribbon, yarn. Reuse them before discarding. Be sure storage is neat and safe.

No. 7 Encourage companies to discover ways to reuse or safely dispose of plastic products. Right now, the only way to dispose of plastic is by incineration. This adds to our air pollution problems.

No. 8 Encourage companies to raise the bottle-deposit sum to encourage the return of bottles.

No. 9 When possible, ride your bike or walk to meetings, schools, work, etc. encourage others to do the same.

No. 10 Form car pools and share the ride to work, school, shopping, etc.; encourage others to do the same.

No. 11 Press for action by automobile manufacturers to produce a smog-free engine.

No. 12 Ask for low-level or no-load gasoline for your car.

No. 13 Keep your engine properly tuned (approximately every 10,000 miles). Encourage others to do the same. This cuts down on exhaust emissions and helps reduce air pollution.

No. 14 Keep boat engines properly tuned and encourage others to keep theirs tuned also. An improperly tuned boat engine causes more petroleum wastes to go into the water and air.

No. 15 Encourage your fishermen friends to pick up their own fishing line for someone else's. If left on the ground it can kill or injure birds and small animals.

No. 16 When you take photographs, pick up used film packs. The packs form litter and chemicals in the packs can poison animals.

No. 17 Encourage everyone to "Take only pictures . . . Leave Only Footprints." engine can be harmful to cesspools and even the largest city sewage plants in trash.

No. 18 Put metal tabs from drink cans and plastic carriers for six-packs in trash. They are hazardous to animals as well as being a litter problem.

No. 19 Keep your transistor radio volume set moderately. Noise is a form of pollution too.

No. 20 Encourage local officials to reduce noise pollution along freeways and heavily traveled streets by proper tree and shrub plantations.

No. 21 Encourage everyone, including local park officials, to plant just one or more tree or shrub. Trees play a major part in purifying the air; the oxygen they release dilutes pollution in the air.

are detergents carefully, using only enough to get clothes clean.

No. 23 Place small pieces of leftover soap in a piece of Mom's discarded nylon hose; give it to a child to bubble up their bath. This uses up a bit of soap, recycles the piece of nylon hose and cleans the younger generation, all at the same time.

No. 24 Run your dishwasher only once a day, or less, depending on size of your family. This helps to conserve water.

No. 25 Put a brick in your toilet tank! A brick in your toilet tank reduces the amount of water used to flush.

No. 26 Turn water faucets off firmly to stop leaking and conserve water.

No. 27 Don't leave garden hoses and faucets running for long periods of time. Leave the water on just long enough to water grass thoroughly but not long enough for water to run off down the street.

No. 28 Don't throw trash in streams, lakes, rivers and oceans. It belongs in a trash can, not in our water supplies.

No. 29 Don't hide your trash in the snow. When the snow melts in the spring, you'll be the cause of sight and water pollution.

No. 30 Are there adequate litter containers in your city parks, schools and nearby recreation areas? If not, discuss the matter with public officials; offer to help obtain used oil drums (Service stations will often donate a few drums); clean, paint and decorate them with Woody's slogan, "Give A Hoot . . . Don't Pollute."

No. 31 Keep beaches, parks and roadsides clean. Urge your friends to do the same.

No. 32 Organize "Hooper Patrol" and, with the aid of the members, look for pollution problems in your area. Then take action to stop these problems.

No. 33 Don't spray paint on rocks, fences or buildings. This causes sight pollution and makes a countryside or city street ugly.

No. 34 Pick plants and wildflowers leaves the land bare, ugly and subject to erosion. Save them there for all to share!

No. 35 Read instructions and contents carefully before buying consumer products. Look for recycling symbols.

No. 36 Use chemical pesticides sparingly. Follow directions carefully.

No. 37 Put your lawn weeds out by hand. This is good, healthful exercise and eliminates the need for applying herbicides.

No. 38 Dispose of excess paint by donating it to the company, calling attention to the pollution they are causing. . . . This can help.

No. 39 Filter cigarettes can be harmful to cesspools and even the largest city sewage plants in trash.

No. 40 Some drystuffs do not break down biologically and should be regarded with a wary eye. White tissues and paper do not contain dye.

No. 41 Do you see something ecologically unsound? Write to the company, calling attention to the pollution they are causing. . . . This can help.

No. 42 Support adequate local anti-litter and pollution laws and their proper enforcement.

No. 43 Public officials can help by encouraging increased cooperation to control water and land pollution on a regional basis.

No. 44 Accumulated wire coat hangers can be tied in bundles and returned to your cleaner for reuse. If you throw them away, you add immensely to the garbage problem.

25 Years Ago Study Possible War Memorials

SEPTEMBER 11, 1947

The Granite City War Memorial Association will net $8,500 to $9,000 out of the three-day Labor Day fund-raising jubilee, partial reports indicate. Tentative figures show at least $11,000 gross revenue and $3,000 in expenses.

A committee studying possible projects that might be erected as a suitable memorial to local war dead has been instructed to proceed with its study and submit ideas to the association at the next meeting. Mention was made of building a Wilson Park pavilion for dancing, summer theater work, group meetings and other activities. A "practical" memorial is favored. One proposal calls for an open pavilion, sheltered by a roof, including a trophy room for World War II souvenirs.

MRS. JAMES L. HARGRAVE, the former Miss Sharon Chapman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chapman, 1650 Fifth St., Madison. She was married at the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Miss Sharon Chapman Wed In Candlelight Setting

The Rev. Paul J. Davis officiated at a double ring ceremony on Saturday evening, uniting in marriage Miss Sharon Chapman and James L. Hargrave. The setting was the First Baptist Church in Madison.

Candlelight illuminated the sanctuary for the 7 o'clock service and bouquets of mums and pom poms in autumn colors of yellow, gold and bronze were placed on the altar.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chapman, 1650 Fifth St., Madison, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hargrave, 10 Shirwin Drive.

Phyllis Vance presided at the organ as Don Hargrave, father of the groom, sang "More" and "Wedding Prayer." The groom sang to his bride "The Wedding Song."

Miss Janice Hargrave, a sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Mrs. Carol Springs, the bride's sister, Miss Debbie Gracie and Miss Janet Stevenson served as bridesmaids.

Miss Rebecca Crews was junior bridesmaid and Christina Chapman, a niece of the bride, the flower girl.

The honor attendant wore a sheer mint green chiffon gown designed with a high neckline and a wide belt. The bride wore a white gown with a high neckline and a wide belt.

The bridesmaids chose yellow dresses with maize Venice lace vests styled similar to the maid of honor's frock. They held bouquets of white and yellow mums.

The flower girl was dressed in a mint green frock and she carried a basket of rose petals.

For her wedding, the bride chose a pure white silk organza gown made in classic style. A high stand up collar was accented with Venice lace and a velvet bib detailed the front and back of the molded bodice.

The groom wore a white tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. He carried a white boutonniere.

The former Miss Chapman graduated in 1971 from Madison High School and is attending SIUE. She is also employed at the Madison Public Library.

Her husband, a 1969 graduate of Granite City High School is enrolled at the SIUE-Edwardsville campus.

The couple will make their home in Madison.

Reception was held at the Northgate Restaurant in Collinsville.

MRS. EUGENE R. RICHARDSON. She is the former Miss Marilyn Rushing, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Rushing, 1820 Ferguson Ave. Her wedding was Saturday at Tri-City Park Tabernacle.

Marilyn Rushing Wed In Evening Ceremony

White baskets holding sprays of white pom poms, gladiolus and blue daisies, together with an eternal flame burning, provided the setting at Tri-City Park Tabernacle for the Saturday evening wedding of Miss Marilyn S. Rushing, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph B. Rushing, 1820 Ferguson Ave., and Eugene R. Richardson, 4173 Trudy Lane, Memphis, Tenn.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Richardson, 2630 Missouri Ave.

Officiating at the 7:30 double ring ceremony was the Rev. John Polizzi.

A long white tulle gown designed with an Empire bodice of imported lace and a slightly gathered skirt was selected by the bride.

A high stand-up collar was created in matching lace. Long puffed sleeves of lace, terminating in wide cuffs, were closed with 10 tiny buttons.

A forward V-shaped headpiece held in place a long veil of bridal illusion, edged with scalloped lace, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and baby breath.

The maid of honor, Miss Brenda McClelland, chose a beige dress, featuring a lace bodice, long sleeves and an accordion pleated skirt. Her bouquet was an arrangement of orange carnations, accented with matching streamers.

A 6-year-old boy playing in an alley was approached by two men in a red car who offered the child some candy in a paper bag. TRUCK FRAME BUSINESS BOOM is prompting the Automotive Division of A. O. Smith Corp. to install at Milwaukee a second huge press capable of stamping out a 40-foot-long truck frame side rail with a single 4,000-ton stroke. Shown above is the unloading of the bed plate for the new press. Each half weighed 300,000 pounds and two big mobile cranes were used to unload them and move them into position.

The press when installed will weigh nearly 2,000,000 pounds. Like its oldest mate, the new press will stand more than 33 feet high and extend more than 13 feet below ground. The two presses rank among the largest of their kind in the world. A. O. Smith, also the largest manufacturer of passenger car frames, operates a major auto frame plant in Granite City.
